Oddfellows Anniversary

The anniversary banquet of Blaimore Lodge No. 68 took place at the opera house on Wednesday night, and was the most successful social function yet held by that organization. The gathering was both cosmopolitan and representative, including men of practically every calling in life from a doctor down to a presumed member of the fairer sex. The programme was well arranged and carried out in good style under the able chairmanship of H. G. Bigelow, Chief Patriarch of the local encampment. The supper was served by Mr. J. A. Osborne, of the Alberta hotel, and it must be said that no better spread could ever be desired.

After supper the following toast programme was gone through:

MENU

More Eney Soup.
Celery.

TOASTS

"The Empire"—Rev. Bro. J. F. Hunter, resp. Rev. W. H. Muncester.
"Sing to Him, O Israel."
"Canada"—Bro. L. H. Putnam, resp. Bro. H. E. Lyon.

"Alberta"—Bro. James M. Carter, resp. Rev. W. T. Young.

"The Ladies"—J. W. Verge, W. H. Muncester.
"Rule Britannia!"

All the speakers handled their subjects ably, touching upon what constitutes an Oddfellow, a citizen, an Empire builder and an honorable character. Besides the speeches the songs by Messrs Paton and Shaw were much enjoyed, and the exhibition of the tango attracted more than ordinary interest.

Following the speeches, the hall was cleared and the major portion of the gathering engaged in tripping the light fantastic to the popular airs furnished by the Frank orchestra. Everyone are loud in their praise of the character of the programme and the manner in which it was carried out. The committee are certainly to be congratulated upon the successful termination of this, the fourth anniversary of this institution of subordinate lodge in Blaimore, and the second anniversary of Crows' Nest Encampment No. 8. Both branches of the order were represented by their provincial heads, namely Geo. W. Henderson, grand master of the grand lodge of Alberta; and Murray Saunders, grand patriarch of the grand encampment, whose addresses were full of earnestness and interest.

New Lodge Instituted

Thursday of this week will long be remembered by the people of Bellevue and neighboring towns who are interested in the great work being carried on by the Independent Order of Oddfellows, for on that date the fraternal stork blessed that community by the birth of a baby lodge.

At 2:30 p.m. the charter was in readiness and Grand Master George Henderson superintended the ceremony of institution. He was ably assisted by other Grand Lodge members.

The following were elected officers and duly installed:
Noble Grand—Herbert Barlass.
Vice-Grand—Richard F. Randall.

Recording Secretary—Allan Hamilton.

Financial Secretary—Treasurer—Donald McMillan.
Chaplain—Rev. F. T. Cook.
Warden—A. Mav.
Conductor—J. Ruddy.

Outside Guard—J. Dudley.
Inside Guard—J. Painter.
R.S.N.G.—Dr. D.C. McKenzie.
L.S.N.G.—William H. Clappell.
R.S.V.G.—Walter Scott.
L.S.V.G.—Dr. Moore.

Following the installation, the initiatory degree was conferred on fifty-eight new candidates by the degree team of Blaimore lodge. The first degree was put on by the degree team from Coleman. The second degree was conferred by Fincher Creek Lodge No. 5, while a picked team conferred the third degree.

The ceremonies were very impressive, and the Lyric theatre, filled to its capacity with Oddfellows from all over the district, presented a unique spectacle.

Following the degree work the Bellevue Lodge No. 118 was addressed by Grand Master Henderson and others.

About midnight a bounteous supper was served to over 175 Oddfellows at the Workers' Hall, the catering being ably handled by the ladies of the church.

The institution ceremonies and degrees took place in the Lyric theatre, which been especially arranged for the occasion.

The new lodge at Bellevue has started out with a membership of seventy-two, probably the record for Alberta outside of the cities of Calgary and Edmonton. The prospects for the success of the new lodge are very great, the material already connected with it comprising the highest types of manhood, and the resources to draw from such as cannot but ensure its growth and prosperity.

Local Cases Heard At Macleod

At the sitting of the district court at Macleod last Saturday, the following cases were heard:

A case of theft in which the accused is a resident of The Pass. Accused was remanded for sentence until Friday, the 9th inst. W. M. W. Campbell, K. C., for the Crown, L. H. Putnam, Blaimore, for accused.

Rex vs. Harry White. Case of theft. Accused supposed to have stolen $100 or more from the office of D. A. Sinclair, of Blaimore. In the evidence of Mike Marciell, one of the crown's star witnesses, witness forgot what he had said at the preliminary trial, consequently he got totally balled up. His Honor Judge McNeill acquitted the accused, stating that the Crown had not even made out a prima facie case, taking into consideration the cross-examination. W. M. Campbell, K. C., for plaintiff; L. H. Putnam, for accused.

Clergyman Endorses Cure Of Nervous Prostration

Four Doctors Had Failed—Hope Given Up

Mrs. E. T. Ford, 55 McGee Street, Toronto, Ont., states:—"Some time ago I was ill from nervous prostration and for many weeks was in a very serious condition. I was treated by four different doctors without receiving any benefit from their treatment. I had quite given up hope when one day my husband saw Dr. Chase's advertisement, and it seemed so to suit my case that I bought a box of Nerve Food. I improved so rapidly that I continued using the Nerve Food, and I am thankful to say, it worked a complete cure. Since that time, we have never been without it in the house, and I gladly recommend it to all my neighbors."

Her Pastor's Endorsement

Rev. G. M. Holmes, Pastor of Eastern Ave. Baptist Church, Toronto, writes:—"I have known Mrs. Ford as a member of my church for over two years, and know that any statement she would make would be correct."

System Run Down—Awfully Nervous

Mrs. John Walfield, La Have Islands, Lunenburg Co., N.S., writes:—"Two years ago my system became greatly run down, and I was awfully nervous. It was very difficult for me to do my housework, and I felt very miserable, I doctored but did not receive any benefit until I began the use of Dr. Chase's Nerve Food. This medicine proved of wonderful benefit to me, building up the system and restoring health and strength. I always feel now that if I do get run down I can depend on Dr. Chase's Nerve Food to make me strong and well.

"My husband was troubled with dizziness and nervous headache, and was cured by the Nerve Food. He would not be without it in the home."

Deny Battle of Marne

Of Importance to Farmers

Board of Trade, Calgary.

September 2, 1914

To the newspapers:

Advices have been received by the Calgary Board of Trade to the effect that the Ontario and Quebec hay crops will not reach the average. It is stated that in Quebec, possibly the largest producing province of this country in Canada, an exceedingly small crop will be garnered. Ontario will probably realize a little better than Quebec but it is evident that that Province will not have nearly sufficient to meet local demands. Prince Edward Island and Nova Scotia are in good shape, in this regard, but it is thought that their surplus will not offset the shortage in the two larger Provinces.

The situation in Europe will probably be responsible for a shortage in some of those countries. A large number of the men who would be employed in putting up this crop have been called to the war, and it is safe to assume that should there be a surplus in any one of these countries it will be very jealously guarded.

Another feature of the situation is that the British Government are purchasing a large amount of Western Canadian hay and oats which they have been accustomed to. These conditions will readily convey to the farmers in those districts where hay is plentiful, the need for every blade being cut and carefully stacked, pending the demand, which is sure to come during the winter.

It is not improbable that that prairie hay will demand a much better figure than previously, as timothy and other more valuable grasses will be exported and the demands for the former will proportionately increase.

It will be the wise farmer who will take advantage of these conditions and see that when buying is over, his fields are dotted with a number of good big stacks. There are many who would not be surprised during the coming winter to see prairie hay exported and I have no doubts should this condition arise, that the railways will put in through rates to Britain and other countries from Alberta, in order to facilitate the movement, and farmers should see to it that this Province is in a position to supply a large amount of hay when the demand arises.

I would ask you to kindly make such representation to your readers as will convince them of the need for this conservation.

Yours truly,
William H. Wilston,
Secretary.

New York, Sept. 23.—The Chamber of Commerce, German-American Committee, incorporated, has announced today that there has been no "battle of the Marne," and that all the stories written of the advance to the gates of Paris of the German armies and the subsequent retreat and defeat of those armies were inventions pure and simple.

That such a battle as was described in the press early this month never occurred was claimed in a statement written by the military expert of the Chamber of German-American Commerce, who captioned the statement: "Battle of the Marne a colossal myth."

For several weeks," he writes, "the American papers have been filled with descriptions of the enormous 'battle of the Marne' lasting for ten days or longer, on a front extending from one hundred to one hundred and fifty miles, where the German armies were defeated and driven back."

"It should now be plain to American editors and their military experts that such a battle has never taken place and is an invention pure and simple."

Hunters and fishermen found trespassing on my property will be prosecuted.

A large number of local Oddfellows journeyed to Bellevue yesterday and took part in the institution of the new Bellevue lodge.

R. E. Campbell, M. L. A. for Rocky Mountain, came to town Tuesday night and visited South Fork on Wednesday.

Murray Saunders, grand patriarch of Alberta I.O.O.F., arrived in town on Monday to take part in this week's ceremonies.

The many friends and parishioners of Rev. W. H. Muncester, B.D., will be pleased to learn that he has decided to remain in Blairmore another year.

The Bellevue resident, who appeared before the docket at Macleod on Monday to answer a first charge, was remanded for sentence till Friday next.

Alberta Will be Able to Look After its Own

Although there are some places of the Dominion where outside assistance will be necessary, notwithstanding the generous response from all parts, Mr. H. B. Ames, M. P., honorary secretary of the National Canadian Patriotic fund, is of the opinion that the province of Alberta will be well able to look after the families of those of her sons who have gone to the front. Mr. Ames categorizes as exceptional generosity the actions of those people who have agreed, and are still agreeing to give one day's pay each month to the popular fund, and on the strength of this manifestation of unselfishness on the part of the people of the province, he bases his belief that Alberta will not find it necessary to make any inroads on the treasury of the Ottawa fund of which his royal highness the Duke of Connaught, is president and chairman of executive, and not as many might think, a mere figurehead. In generosity of this sort, he claims the west far ahead of the east.

Mr. Ames explained that the fund had been started with the two-fold purpose in view of seeing to it that every family whose breadwinner was at the front would be looked after by somebody and of taking care that there would be no hardship occasioned to the families of either British, French, Canadian or Belgian reservists. At the commencement of hostilities, he stated, sporadic efforts had been launched all over the country but as there was great danger of an over-supply in some places, and not sufficient in others, it was thought advisable to establish a central organization that could be used as a clearing

A. Wardman, of Burns, shipped a carload of cattle from Cowley to Chicago about ten days ago.

Two young men appeared before the court on Wednesday to answer the charge of having supplied, interdicted parties with liquor, and two black-listers were obliged to state the how and why they accepted the drop that for a time cheers. The two former were fined $50 and costs each, while one of the latter was made to fork up the sum of $27 for the privilege of being guilty of a second offence.

On Tuesday night the grand officers paid an official visit to Blairmore Lodge 68, I.O.O.F., when degrees were conferred. A large number of Oddfellows from Coleman paid a return visit. After the meeting, luncheon was served at the Blairmore restaurant, about forty members participating.

George W. Henderson, provincial grand master of the I.O.O.F., came to town on Sunday night, accompanied by J. A. Tully, of the Oddfellows' insurance branch. They visited Coleman lodge on Monday night, together with about thirty members of the local lodge. Luncheon was served by the ladies of the Coleman Rebekah Lodge and a right good time was spent.

A rather serious fire occurred at Cowley on Tuesday morning (about 1.30), in which several buildings, including the general store of Pettit & Howie and the post office were completely destroyed. The fire originated at the rear of an adjoining meat market, and had gained such headway that it left no possible chance of saving any part of the block. The entire stock of Pettit & Howie was destroyed, on which there is small insurance. Considerable matter was destroyed in the post office.

At the rear of the store was a private residence, from which some furniture was saved. The upstairs of the store was used as a lodge-room by the Macons, Oddfellows and Orangemen, all of whom are heavy losers. The bank and other nearby buildings were saved with great difficulty.

Consequently, the patriotic fund was started to handle the surplus of those places that were well able to give and had more money than they needed to look after the families of those who had gone from their vicinity. The idea was to make the provinces responsible for all cases within their boundaries, but if the provinces were unable to look after the same the central fund could be called upon. It was at this point that Mr. Ames spoke highly of the work that was being done in Alberta and expressed the opinion that Alberta ought to be able to look after its own without assistance from outside sources.

"What is wanted in Alberta," continued the Montreal parliamentarian, "is a well-organized and widespread effort to secure contributions, as the fund has been organized on the basis that every person should either fight or pay. Those who do the fighting have a right to expect that those at home should do the paying, and in consequence every woman has the right to ask the country to replace her wage earner. The philosophy of the situation is such that there should be no thought of charity. The destitute families have a perfect right to the money of the fund, and it should be considered a privilege for the rest of us to see that they get it."

In conclusion Mr. Ames remarked that the formation of provincial organizations in the western provinces would be a great thing, as country organizations were being launched in the east.

Clareholm School Of Agriculture

Those interested in the Provincial School of Agriculture, at Clareholm, which is under the direction of the Board of Agricultural Directors, and the Honorable Duncan Marshall, Minister of Agriculture for the Province of Alberta, are reminded that the academic year, 1914-15, commences on October 27th.

In spite of the fact that crop conditions in Southern Alberta this year have not been the best, the attendance at the School this next year promises to be even larger than last year; thereby showing the places that such an institution is finding in the Province of Alberta. The students who were in attendance last year, almost without exception, will return for the associate diploma in Agriculture and Domestic Science that is granted by the Department of Agriculture to students successful in the prescribed two years course.

Owing to the ill-nit accommodation, the Clareholm school, will not be able to register more than 150 students this next year, so that those who intend to enter the school this fall should make application at once if they wish to be admitted; otherwise, their applications may have to be kept on the waiting list.

All information will be freely given. Apply to Principal W. J. Stephen, Clareholm.

AVOID SEDATIVE COUGH MEDICINES

If you want to contribute directly to the cure of capillary bronchitis and pneumonia, use cough medicines that contain codine, morphine, heroin or other sedatives when you have a cough or cold. An expectorant like Chamberlain's Cough Remedy is what is needed. That cleans out the culture beds or breeding places for the germs of pneumonia and other germ diseases. That is why pneumonia never results from a cold when Chamberlain's Cough Remedy is used. It has a world wide reputation for its cures. It contains no morphine or other sedative. For sale by all dealers.

A Nice Pleasant Drive

The young business man was seated in his motor chair, and his very young and charming bride was busy herself with the evening meal. They had just moved into their flat, and started on their career as a home family. Hubby was reading the paper.

"H'm," said he in an approved head-of-the-family voice. "Says here that the Germans drove the Russians 40 miles."

"Oh, wasn't that sweet of them?"

The head of the family started.

"Whatcha mean, sweet of 'em?" he asked.

"Why that the Germans didn't make the poor Russians walk."

Careful Talk

Of course, we'll talk about the war—that can't be helped, by jingo; but what is what we're living for, to talk of that thing? We'll talk until our throats are hoarse, we'll jabber day by day, but let us, in our brave discourse, be careful what we say. Why sit upon the grocer's bench, or stand along the curbs, and roast the Germans or the French, the Austrians or Serbs? The justice of each nation's cause can't be settled by you, so you'd be wise to shelve your issues, and cease your howl-do. The feeling now is too intense; why make it doubly deep? Twice better far to point your fence, or else dehorn your sheep. This combat gives my soul a wrench, and starts the scolding brim; for I have friends among the French, and German friends are mine, and there are Britishers I love, and Russians I admire, and oh, I hate to see them shove each other in the fire! How I look forward to the day—God grant it soon may come—when all of them will cease to yell and sound the martial drum, and meanwhile I can do no good by springing foolish talk. I shall sit on pile of wood and get my corn in shock.
